Our placements

We have both contract and permanent placements available for our candidates depending on a clients' needs.

Our contract placements are generally more specialised roles that are project based with candidates placed for a minimum of 6 months. As such contract roles can offer a candidate greater flexibility in terms of roles, working hours and income as they work off of an hourly rate.

Our permanent placements are more suited to production and process engineers that are involved in the research, design and development of products, offering candidates greater stability.

Our point of difference

We have in depth conversations with our clients to ensure we know exactly what they are looking for and take the time to ensure we put forward the right candidate to match not only the technical needs, but also the culture and environment of the office .

We know these clients' business models as we sell them the very software that makes up their systems and process, so they know and trust us to put the best candidate forward.

We can also assist with certification and training needs to ensure candidates have the skills required to not only succeed but excel in their positions.

We have a rigorous assessment process to not only test a candidates' skills but also to understand where their strengths and weaknesses lie.

Everyday new jobs are requested across Australia and New Zealand, so once on file we reuse our database for multiple roles in multiple cities.
